Dear Madam/Sir,

I am writing this letter to recommend my student Alicia González Y Gómez for an internship with your PRISA Group, which is a media enterprise Alicia has dreamt of working for ever since she started to study for her double-degree in journalism.

I have come to know Alicia as her teacher of 'English for journalists' language course at Charles University in Prague. Throughout the past academic semester, she has clearly demonstrated her outstanding intellectual ability, seriousness of purpose, as well as keen interest in her specialization.

Alicia has always taken an exceptionally active approach to our seminars, came to classes thoroughly prepared and ready to contribute to the discussion, and to offer her opinions and insights on the issues in question. She has been most responsible and diligent, always turning in her splendid work ahead of her colleagues.

Alicia Chen is willing to search for adequate sources and materials, to critically analyze them and formulate well-structured, coherent and logical conclusions. Her excellent command of English will enable her to make the most of the chosen program.

Should you have any other enquiries or questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Kind regards,

Mgr. Alena Prošková
English language lecturer
